Council calls by-election

The resignation of Town Councillor Vernon King has made it necessary under the Municipal Government Act for the Town of Elk Point to call a by-election. King's resignation was accepted by Council at last Monday's meeting. He is leaving the community to live near Spedden.

This left Mayor Ed Buck with only three members on his Council: Mae Hendrickson, Bill Schuhmacher and Dan Povaschuk. Two other Councillors, Betty Callbeck and Lawrence Pidluzny, resigned earlier this year.

Tuesday, October 11 has been set as Nomination Day. If more than three nominations for the three vacant Council seats are submitted at that time, a By-Election will take place on Wednesday, October 26, with an advance poll on Monday, October 24.

The September 19 meeting of Council also saw Council working to wrap up final details on their summer projects. Three quotes for painting the interior and exterior of the Town Office were discussed, with the job awarded to Bourbeau Painting Ltd. of Bonnyville.

Two bids for supply, spreading and seeding of topsoil on 51 through 54 Avenues were read, with the contract going to Don Anderson Trucking.

Quotes for the repair of 51 Avenue west of 51 Street were also discussed, with Council agreeing to have failed areas removed and replaced. The Mayor and Public Works Foreman Ron Fraess will meet with the contractor to discuss this and other repairs which are needed, with a view to doing the work as economically as possible.

Second reading was given to the new Dog Control By-law, but third reading was deferred until the next meeting. Councillor Povaschuk

Chamber plans ahead

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce may have just started up for the new fall season, but they're planning w-a-y ahead.

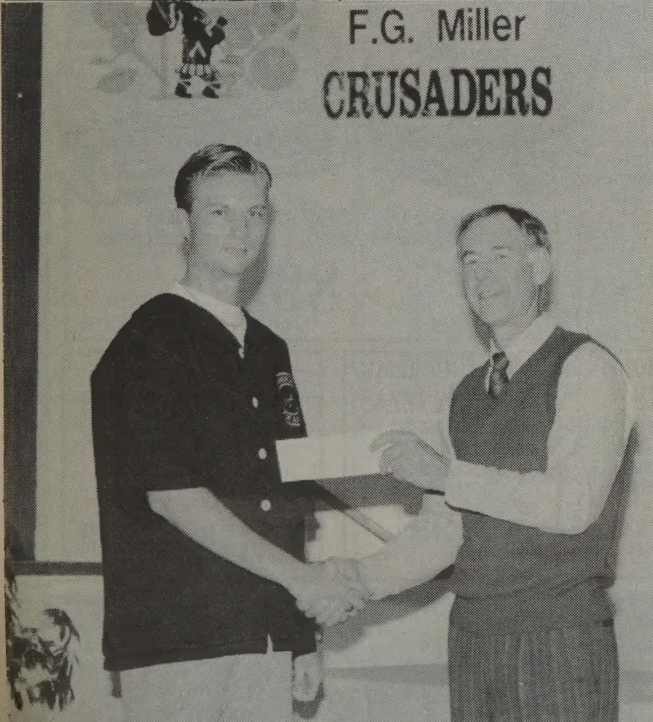

Last Wednesday's regular meeting of the Chamber saw Friday, December 2 set as the date for the annual Christmas Extravaganza, while other discussion centred on ideas for the possible International Year of the Family New Year's Eve family celebration.

The Chamber agreed to send representation to the IYF meeting on September 22, and on the whole, agreed the celebration sounded like a workable idea. Sid Holthe suggested this would be a fitting time for a dedication to families for years to come, as a more serious focus for the event.

Planning for the Christmas Extravaganza has not started yet, but a date was agreed to so that the event could be included in the Lakeland Tourist Association's Fall Events Guide. Anyone wishing to be KATES MEMORIAL AWARD - Among the numerous awards presented to Chris Kittlitz was the Kates Memorial Award, sponsored for many years by Anne and Ben Kates in memory of their son Sidney. Principal Jim Hawkins presented the award.

Kittlitz tops FGM awards

When Ian Huffman stepped up to the podium to present the Pan Canadian Petroleum scholarships, he joked that one of the recipients needed a pickup truck to haul away all his awards. He wasn't exaggerating all that much: Christian Kittlitz was a winner in ten categories at F. G. Miller High School Awards Night last Friday in Elk Point.

Kittlitz started off the evening's wins with the Grade 12 Academic Honors award sponsored by R. W. Maas Trucking, and later collected four plaques from Canadian Salt for the top marks in each of Math 30, Social Studies 30, Physics 30 and Chemistry 30. He topped that off with the Governor General Academic Bronze Medal for the highest academic standing in Grade 12 and the County of St. Paul No. 19 High Academic Standing Award of $100. He also accepted the Kates Memorial Award, a sum of $100 given annually in memory of the late Sidney Kates, and a three year, $1500 Rutherford Scholarship. His final award of the evening was a $700 scholarship from Pan Canadian Petroleum, one of two given to worthy graduates who are studying in a science or business program at an accredited post-secondary institution. Amy Hawkins was the other recipient.

The second largest stack of awards went to Christina Sereda, who collected Academic Honors in the Grade 10 category, with an award from the Chamber of Commerce, the Senior High Computer Processing award sponsored by Amoco Canada, the Calm 20 award from Dave's Pizza, the Senior High French award from Elk Point and District Lions Club, and the Top Grade 10 Advanced Diploma Student award from Elk Point Insurance and Realty.

In addition to the Pan Canadian scholarship, Amy Hawkins received the Steve Kuziw Memorial Award established some years ago by the Elk Point Recreation Board and now administered by the Elk Point Elks Lodge. She also qualified for the Alberta Heritage High School Citizenship award.

Dorothea Naber was the recipient of the Elmer Bjornstad Award, a $1000 scholarship which is administered noted that the new bylaw "has some pretty big bites in it" and therefore needs further study.

The Town has received two proposals from privatized assessors, and expect a third proposal to come in. Mayor Buck and Councillor Hendrickson met with one assessment firm, and the Mayor noted that they were setting up their own business while still employed by the government. It was agreed that no decision needs to be made yet.

The Mayor also reported that Elk Point has won the Community Achievement Award of Excellence from the Alberta Aviation Council and Alberta Transportation and Utilities, which will be presented to himself in Jasper on October 7. The award is given on the basis of a high standard of maintenance and promotion of the airport. The award was established in 1992, and previous winners were the Lacombe and Olds - Disbury airports.

A DRAINING SITUATION - Public Works Superintendent Ron Fraess gives last minute instructions to one of his crew members as pipes are laid west of 51 Street on 50 Avenue to correct the longstanding drainage problem at that corner, which resulted in a small lake every rainstorm or spring thaw.

How to Live a Hundred Happy Years

1. Do not be on the lookout for ill health.
2. Keep usefully at work.
3. Have a hobby.
4. Learn to be satisfied.
5. Keep on liking people.
6. Meet adversity valiantly.

7. Meet the little problems of life with decision.

8. Above all, maintain a good sense of humor, best done by saying something pleasant every time you get a chance.

9. Live and make the present hour pleasant and cheerful. Keep your mind out of the past, and keep it out of the future.

Our Past

By Steve Andrishak

Fur trade artifacts

Below and at left are some of the many fur trade artifacts found in the Elk Point district during the 1950s and early 1960s. The Hudson's Bay axes, hinges and various tools were found at the Fort George site many years ago, as were the large copper kettle, long handled frying pan and copper tea kettle.

At that time there were no heritage laws to prevent one from digging near historical sites. All you had to do was to get the landowner's permission.

In 1976 the Alberta Heritage Laws were passed, making it illegal to disturb Historical Sites. The pictured artifacts, as well as hundreds of other relics of the fur trade era can be seen at the Pioneer Museum, Elk Point.

The Family Forum

Jim MacLellan

Dr. James Dobson in his book, Dare to Discipline, says, "The point is obvious: heredity does not equip a child with proper attitudes; children will learn what they are taught." If I were asked why it is necessary to discipline children, my answer would be one word, confidence.

Young people today face devastating odds. From the economic situation, to health and politics, the future can appear ominous. Confident children can face that future. Home, church and school education should, in my opinion, train our young people to be confident. Confident before themselves. Confident socially. Confident spiritually.

I believe this confidence is developed by working on two intermediate objectives: One, is responsibility (I did an earlier article on this); and Two is identity.

Special interest groups, a pervasive illusion of egalitarianism, and moral abandonment has all contributed to boys and girls growing up without sexual confidence. Rising homosexuality and radical feminism have given rise to a clear distortion in human sexuality.

I think it's time to restore family roles. Functioning roles within any social grouping are essential. Children that have been brought up to see clear family roles, that are free to discuss the roles of women and men, and that are listened to, will likely grow up with a sense of confidence regarding their own sexual identity. What do you think?

Letter to the Editor

Tribute to professionals participating in Lions Quest

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the St. Paul and District Lions' Club, I would like to pay tribute to all of the 135 teachers and other professionals who gave freely of their time to participate in one of the several Lions-Quest workshops which were conducted in St. Paul and area this past August. These people gave up 3 full days of their summer to learn a process whereby they can teach our young people to develop positive social behaviors, which include respect, responsibility, self-discipline, getting along with others and a commitment to drug-free healthy lives. Participants included teachers from Saddle Lake First Nations and from all of the schools within the Town of St. Paul and County of St. Paul, including Poundmakers Adolescent Treatment Centre and Life Values. Also participating in the workshops were representatives from AA-DAC, Networks, the RCMP, our Lions' Club and The Boys and Girls Club. The participants have shown considerable concern for our youth, as well as great enthusiasm and an eagerness to implement this program as soon as possible. When this project was initiated by our Lions' Club, we were unsure of the response we would receive, but we have been overwhelmed by the support of teachers, parents and other involved individuals.

The St. Paul and District

Lions' Club is totally committed to Lions-Quest, and we anticipate positive results from this program. Lions-Quest is an investment in our future and will enable our youth of today to become better citizens of tomorrow!

Thank you to all the participants, organizations, businesses and individuals who contributed in any way to the success of this project. We would also like to specifically acknowledge the contribution of the Elk Point Lions' Club towards the training of teachers from the Heinsburg and Elk Point Schools.

Sincerely,
Larry Hodinsky
Chairman, Lions Quest
Committee

Marion Rose revisits childhood home

A chance remark to an Ontario cousin resulted in Marion Rose of Chelmsford, Essex, England returning to Elk Point more than sixty years after she made her home here as a small child. Mrs. Rose and her husband Ray were in Elk Point last Tuesday as part of a cross-Canada holiday, and were entertained at tea by the Elk Point Historical Society.

Historical Society President Gail Kozicky, who welcomed the Roses, said it was "pretty exciting" to receive a letter from the Roses' Ontario relatives, who had written in hopes of finding out more about the community where Marion had lived with her parents, Reverend and Mrs. Reginal Smith, in the late 1920s and early 1930s. Rev. Smith was the first United Church minister in Elk Point, and also founded the Boy Scout troop here.

When the Historical Society learned that the Roses were coming to Elk Point, they immediately decided to host a tea, so that longtime residents of the area, who may have known the Smith family, could meet them. Well over thirty people attended the event, including three sisters, Hilda Smith, Irene Melin and Hazel Hord, who as the Nelson daughters, had been baptised by Rev. Smith. Martin Aarbo remembered her as a tiny tot, when he held her on his teenage knee when he visited her family. "It's an honor and a pleasure to have you come back," he told Mrs. Rose.

George Lindquist, who had also been baptised by Rev. Smith, Melvin McGinnis, whose parents were married by him, and Bill Milholland, who had been part of his Scout troop, were among the others present.

Mrs. Rose enjoyed hearing "all the little memories you are sharing with me," and said about her father, "you probably knew him better than I did," as he had died when she was still a child. Mr. Rose said he had "heard a lot of wonderful things about Elk Point...and wanted to see the place in Canada that had given me my wife."

Margaret Modin, President of the Pioneer Circle Seniors, presented the Roses with pins, while Gail Kozicky presented them with a copy of the Reflections history book and Donna Babcock of the United Church Board with a United Church commemorative plate. The Roses also had a gift for the Historical Society, a handsome volume on Britain.

The Roses were given a tour of the current United Church by Rev. and Mrs. Norman Hartley. Rev. Hartley told Mrs. Rose he was "honored to be in the position your father held." They also were taken on a tour of the manse once occupied by Rev. Smith and family, now the home of Ron and Carolyn Onusko, and took an outside look at the original United Church, now the home of Andy Miller.

REFLECTING THE PAST - Historical Society President Gail Kozicky, right, presented Marion and Ray Rose with a copy of the 'Reflections' history book which contains a story about Mrs. Rose and her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Reginal Smith.

Family New Year's eve in planning stages

Elk Point's International Year of the Family subcommittee would like to see the year end with a bang! Fireworks, fun and feasting were all suggested as part of a family-oriented, alcohol-free New Year's Eve celebration, when the subcommittee met with representatives of various organizations last week.

Subcommittee chairperson Terri Ehlert said Elk Point "has responded in a positive way to the International Year of the Family," and has incorporated the theme in everything from the Scouts' cake auction to the rodeo to the Canada Day celebration. "We have talked on a number of occasions about a windup event which would focus on families doing fun things together."

The dozen people present all had ideas to put forward for the celebration, from floor curling and carpet bowling at the Pioneer Circle, to visiting shut-ins at Parkview Extended Care, to a community potluck supper, to activities such as skating, broomball, curling and cross country skiing. Other groups unable to send a representative to the meeting had also expressed an interest in being a part of the event.

Those who had attended 'First Night' celebrations in Edmonton and Winnipeg reported that these had been well attended and a considerable amount of enthusiasm shown. At those events, a number of different activities and entertainments were held at different venues, and it was agreed that this concept would also work here, with all activities culminating in some form of grand finale, hopefully a fireworks display. It was noted that this would not have to wait for midnight, but could be held at an earlier time so youngsters would be able to enjoy them as well.

The celebration committee agreed that the event should be "all-inclusive" and involve the entire community.

All groups in Elk Point and district are being contacted by committee members this week to seek out their ideas and possible involvement. Any group or individual with suggestions for the event may call Terri Ehlert at 724-3800.

AND THEY'RE OFF! - F. G. Miller Principal Jim Hawkins (dark shirt) and Chamber of Commerce President Victor Stepa (white shirt) took time from their duties to help the school's cross-country hopefuls practice up for this week's championship meet. Billy Cardinal (inset, right) took an early lead, but it was Stepa who crossed the finish line first, 24:52 after the start of the 6-kilometre-plus race. Cardinal was second with 27:58, Hawkins third with 31:19 and Marcel Jenkins fourth at 32:31.

Guides, Brownies getting underway

Elk Point Girl Guides and Pathfinders are getting underway for another season, and held their registration at last Tuesday's Information Night. They have leaders available for all ages of girls from 5 to 17, and you can join at whatever level suits your age: Sparks, Brownies, Guides or Pathfinders.

Sparks and Brownies (ages 5 to 8) will meet Wednesdays from 6:30 to 8:30 at F. G. Miller High School; Guides (ages 9 to 11) will meet Thursdays, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the High School, and Pathfinders and Rangers (ages 12 to 17) will meet Wednesdays from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the F. G. Miller Cafeteria.

The Guides and Pathfinders are starting off their year with a trip to Cold Lake Air Force Base on October 2, and are also planning a tree planting session.

Leaders have been obtained for all levels in Elk Point, but they are still looking for a Guide-In-Training for the Guide company. You do not need to have children to be a leader. If you are interested in being a leader or joining any level of the program, or for more information, please call Cheryl Smith at 645-5857.

UGG AWARD - This year's United Grain Growers award was presented to Tanya Stone by Gwen Werstiuk.

TOP GRADE 11 ADVANCE DIPLOMA STUDENT - Rebekah Matthews was presented with the Treasury Branch award by Mel Ryks.

CITIZENSHIP AWARD - Dr. Jonathan Adams presented this year's Citizenship Award to Dale Pinder.

Chamber plans for fall

involved in planning for the Extravaganza is invited to attend the next Chamber meeting, October 5, so a committee can be named.

Also on October 5 is the first meeting of the newly formed Community Advisory Policing Committee. Mel Ryks was ratified as the Chamber's delegate to that committee, of which he has been named Chairperson. The committee is in its "very early stages," Ryks said, adding that he will be "the conduit between this group and that." Any concerns given to him will be taken to the CAPC meetings.

Later in the fall, the Chamber hopes to sponsor a seminar on starting a small business. The seminar would be held under the auspices of Alberta Economic Development and Trade, and would have speakers of interest to those who are thinking of starting, or have already started, a small business.

Elk Point's own Economic Development Committee, consisting of members of Chamber and Town Council, has had a busy summer with quite a number of meetings. They reviewed the workshop earlier in the year and took action on the recommendation to pursue an economic development plan for the area. "We are at the stage of starting work on the plan for the Elk Point trading area, which will produce action and have an impact," Chamber Vice President Allan Sanregret said. Dave Yake added that the group has decided to create their own logo, which is now two thirds done, and has the school working on a fun map which would be suitable for place mats and possibly for brochures. Sid Holthe said a mission statement and mandate have been completed.

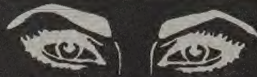

The three agreed that "it's a long, slow process, but we'll get it done."

Vicki Brooker gave a run-down on visitor statistics at the Elk Point Tourist Information Centre this summer. Over three months of operation, the Centre had 1141 visitors registered, a 13 percent increase over last year's total of 1009. Twenty percent of those registered were local residents, with 15 percent from the rest of the Lakeland tourist zone, 17 percent from Edmonton, 4 percent from Calgary, and 23 percent from other areas of Alberta. Another 7 percent came from Saskatchewan, 7 percent from BC and 4 percent from the rest of Canada. Only 1 percent were from the USA, while 4 percent were from other countries or did not specify where they were from. American visitors came from Washington, Oregon, California and North Dakota.

Cowkid poetry round-up

Michele Duczek
Librarian

Exciting news for the Elk Point Public Library! As part of the Reading Rodeo Summer Reading Program, Chinook Arch Library System sponsored a province-wide cowboy poetry contest for children. The Cowkid Poetry Round-Up drew 176 poems from 136 children. Elk Point lassoed two winners. Justin Berg placed second out of 33 entries in the 6 to 8 years age category and his brother Benne Berg placed second out of 56 entries in the 9 to 11 years age category. Both boys received $75 worth of gift certificates from Smithbooks. Their poems are printed below. Congratulations, Benne and Justin!

THE RIDE

By Benne Berg (age 9)

Back in '09 a cowboy rode Wild Side
He was a great buckin' bull with a coal black hide.

When the chute gate opened, the devil was with him,
He'd kick and twirl like a hurricane spin,
No cowboy could stay on for that 10 second win.

But one fine day late in May
A way out back on the Matilda Gray
John Ware came to be -
He rode Wild Side and made history.

Ole John eased down in chute number one and wrapped his hand in the death grip.
He slid up to his rope, nodded his head and hollered - "Let 'em Rip!"

2000 pounds of angry flesh met spur and muscle,
It was a well-matched tussle.
When the whistle blew and the ride was done,
Ware scored 100 points - he had won!

We still remember the match of Wild Side and Ware
And for those of us who still care
This story will be as real as if we were there.

J. R.
By Justin Berg (age 7)

There was a boy named Justin
Who made his fame in mutton-bustin'.

With all his might
He hung on tight

When the tally was done
Sure enough he had won!

The trophy he brought home
Was tall and shiny and real grand
It was his alone
To hold proudly in his hand.

I would like to thank the following, who donated prizes to the library for Information Night: Northbound 41, Home Town Grocers, Northern Lights Library System, Friends of the Elk Point Library. Information Night was a lot of fun and I hope everyone who stopped by the library display and had a chance to see our catalog on the computer had a good time.

DID YOU KNOW:

The first rodeo to charge admission to spectators and to offer prizes was held in Prescott, Arizona in 1888.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank each and every one very much for their pledges which helped me reach my goal in the Terry Fox Run.

1994 INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE FAMILY

The Region 6 Committee for IYF working with Premier's Council in Support of Alberta Families needs your input. The questions below are intended to encourage discussion about families. These questions may be responded to in small groups, within volunteer organizations, by families, or individual family members. Your input is highly valued and will provide strength to families in the 90's.

"Families the Heart of the Matter" -- Region 6

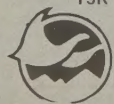

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS:

1. What is a Healthy Family?
2. What do Families need to be healthy?
3. How are communities currently strengthening and supporting healthy families?
4. What can our communities do to support and strengthen families more effectively?

Thank you for your comments and insights. This will become an important investment in the future of Alberta families!

Submit your responses to the Premier's Council in Support of Alberta Families.
